INTRODUCTION

Leadership in this age of uncertainty calls for new ways of leading innovation initiatives in order to maximise the return on investments in the creativity and innovation potential within your business ecosystem.

This program is for leaders looking to focus their organization towards entrenching a culture of innovation. It is part of our INNOVATE Series of performance improvement program.

The INNOVATE Series are based on the experiential learning paradigm, which have proven to be best suited for performance improvements in many functional roles within organizations. The experiential learning model infuses several elements; role play, short presentations, “facilitation”, reflective practice, mental games and physical games and exercises. These are deployed by experienced and certified leaders in the respective professional fields of endeavour.

You will come away from this course with a clear innovation architecture for your organization and an innovation roadmap for maximising the benefits of an enterprise innovation culture.
